We look forward to working with you in our shared commitment to our community. Community is the very essence of Leisure Glen, and we will be encouraging this spirit. We envision a community where every voice is heard, where every suggestion is valued and where every resident feels empowered to contribute to our shared life.

Engagement is not just a word; it's an action. It's about creating opportunities for us to come together, whether it's through town hall meetings, social events or volunteer initiatives. It's about opening doors for dialogue and ensuring that everyone has a seat at the table.

Let's work together to enhance our beloved community spaces, to support our neighbors and to build a Leisure Glen that thrives on the active participation of its residents. This is our home, and every one of us plays a vital role in its story.

Thank you once again for entrusting us with this responsibility. We are eager to work with you, for you and alongside you. Let's embark on this journey of engagement and make Leisure Glen a beacon of community spirit.

Thank you.

All About...Apollo 11

by Mary J. Collins

"The Eagle has landed" (July 20, 1969)

July marks the midway point of the year. It's also considered a month of fun thanks to the biggest patriotic party of the year that starts during the first week of the month. July is also a favored month to take a vacation because of the consistently warm and sultry weather across much of the nation. In addition, this July we will be celebrating the 55th anniversary of the successful flight of Apollo 11, the first mission to land humans on the moon.

When the Apollo 11 spacecraft lifted off on July 16, 1969, for the moon, it signaled a climactic instance in human history. Reaching the moon on July 20, its lunar module—with astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin aboard—landed on the lunar surface while Michael Collins orbited overhead in the Apollo 11 command module. Armstrong soon set foot on the surface, telling millions on Earth that it was "one small step for (a) man—one giant leap for mankind." Aldrin soon followed him out and the two planted an American flag, collected soil and rock samples and set up scientific experiments. The next day, they returned to the Apollo capsule overhead and returned to Earth, splashing down in the Pacific Ocean on July 24.

The flight of Apollo 11 met with an ecstatic reaction around the globe, as everyone shared in the success of the astronauts. The front pages of newspapers everywhere suggested how strong the enthusiasm was. NASA estimated that because of nearly worldwide radio and television coverage, more than half the population of the planet was aware of the events of Apollo 11. Police reports noted that streets in many cities were eerily quiet during the moon walk as residents watched television coverage in homes, bars and other public places. Official congratulations poured into the U.S. president from other heads of state, even as informal ones went to NASA and the astronauts. All nations having regular diplomatic relations with the United States sent their best wishes in recognition of the success of the mission.

"That's one small step for (a) man, one giant leap for mankind." (Neil Armstrong)

BOOK NOTES

by Dorothy Scheuer

I COULD PEE ON THIS and I COULD CHEW ON THIS by Francesco Marciuliano

Why Are You Screaming?

Why are you screaming?

What did I do wrong?

Why are you crying?

How can I make it right?

Would you like it in a different color?

Would you like it in a different size?

Would you like it in a different room?

I just wanted to show my love

I just wanted to express my thanks

I just wanted to put a dead mouse

on your sheets

But now you are screaming

And I don't know how to make you stop

Cats have yearned to let us know what it means to be them, Francesco Marciuliano writes in the Introduction of I Could Pee on This and Other Poems by Cats (2012, Chronicle). Here at last is their opportunity to express their thoughts, gripes and loves. Divided into sections on Family, Work, Play and Existence, these just-about 60 takes on what is to be a domesticated feline bring us into their world as they see it.

* * *

When I See You

When I see you head for the kitchen

I know it's time for my dinner

When I see you walk to the yard

I know it's time for us to play

When I see you go to the car

I know it's time for a drive

When I see you turn on the TV

I know it's time for my head on your lap

And when I see you climb into bed

I know it's time for my walk

Dogs have no trouble communicating their feelings, Marciuliano writes in the Introduction of I Could Chew on This and Other Poems by Dogs (2013, Chronicle). But, "They want you to know what they ponder, what they desire and what you can do with those rain boots you just bought them." In these 60ish entries, sorted by Inside, Outside, By Your Side and Heavy Thinking, they tell us exactly.

Marciuliano is the writer of the comic strips Sally Forth, Judge Parker and the webcomic Medium Large. He published I Knead My Mommy and Other Poems by Kittens in 2014. The pet poetry books have charming and funny photographs of what might be the poems' authors.

Memorial Day is a day for honoring and mourning the United States personnel who died serving in the United States Armed Forces. Let us take a moment to recognize our American Legion Post 352 and the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 352 for putting on a beautiful commemorative service on Memorial Day. It was a time to honor all our neighbors who have served our country and be together for this solemn day. A special recognition and appreciation to the LGTV and Gazette teams for sponsoring our complimentary breakfast. Thank you everyone for coming together and being part of our community.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit # 352

We recently celebrated the retirement of our Immediate Past President, Millie Rizza.

Millie served Unit # 352 in the role as President for sixteen years. Her dedication, commitment, and leadership was very much appreciated not only by her friends and neighbors, but most of all our Servicemen and Women.

Thank you Millie for always being there and making our world a better place.

Fondly,

Club News / Bowling Luncheon

The Bowling Club held its annual end of the year awards dinner at Majestic Gardens on May 22nd. Tables were decorated with beautiful baskets of flowers accompanied by individual bottles of wine for everyone. Appetizers were passed to get the festivities started, followed by a delicious dinner. The music began to get people moving especially when they played the Twist with Paul Desjardins surrounded by all women, as he showed us just how low he could go. WAY TO GO PAUL! Unfortunately, Dottie Gross announced that after 11 years, she is resigning her presidency from the Bowling Club. She has done a wonderful job all these years and we all thank her for her dedication. NOW, we look for someone to step up to run the Club so it doesn't dissolve. Matt Krauza {Vice President}, Linda Greenan {Treasurer} and Ann Cacciaguida {Secretary} will stay on, if elected, to assist the new President.

LEISURE GLEN WOMEN'S GUILD

Summer is in full bloom in Leisure Glen. If you are able, do yourself a favor and walk the Paseo. You will see trees, shrubs, flowering baskets and gardens full of nature's leaves and blooms at their best. Also note the fabulous job the Glen Garden Club has done in planting beautiful flowers all around our borders and gardens. Especially lovely is the Japanese-themed garden just outside of the pool. The Garden Club volunteers are to be congratulated on a job well done and one that enhances the overall appearance of our outside property. Thank you for all your hard work.

The Women's Guild is ready to host our Annual New Women's Tea on Tuesday evening July 16th at 7p.m. in our auditorium. The Tea is for all women who have moved into the Glen from June of 2023 until June of 2024. It's our opportunity to welcome them and introduce the Women's Guild to them so they will be familiar with the work the Women's Guild does each year. It's also an excellent opportunity for them to meet other new women and compare past neighborhoods and careers. Many new friendships have been formed at this gathering and we've received many thanks for the opportunity to bring these women together.

There is NO GAME Day in July to allow us to prepare for the Welcome Tea.

We are very busy gearing up for our Annual Fall Luncheon and Fashion Show on September 17th at the beautiful Meadow Club in Port Jefferson Station. They did a great job of hosting us last year, thus our repeat for them in 2024. We are in the process of soliciting our local merchants for gift cards or baskets that we can raffle off at the luncheon. Please let us know if you wish to donate a gift card or basket for this event. Since this event is off-site, we have no limitations on the number of attendees so please feel free to invite your friends and family to experience this lovely afternoon. All proceeds from the afternoon will benefit our 2024 charities. Complete details will be in the August Gazette. Have a happy and safe 4th of July!

GARDEN CORNER

Summer is here, and if you've been to the pool, you will have noticed the additions to the Japanese Garden. Thank you to the volunteers of the Paseo Committee for the many hours they spent cleaning, mulching and decorating the area. I'm sure everyone agrees it looks beautiful. The Hydrangea Garden is showing a lot of bud clusters. It looks like this will be a bonus year. Join us any Thursday morning at 9:30 (weather permitting) at the Clubhouse patio. To become a volunteer, just come on down and we will teach you.

July Gardening Tips

1. Keep deadheading spent flowers for continued bloom. Cut back to where the flower stem meets the rest of the plant to keep a tidy appearance.
2. To keep container-planted annuals in bloom and vibrant, fertilize regularly in accordance to the label instructions.
3. Be sure to keep all new plants thoroughly watered, especially during times of drought to avoid heat stress. Heat stress can also be prevalent throughout your garden beds during July and August.
4. To keep weeds at bay in your beds, be sure to keep weeds from making seeds. Manually remove after a rain, it will be easier.

Don't forget your houseplants.

1. Feed once a week with liquid fertilizer, continuing through to autumn.
2. Water them more regularly as the temperature warms and light levels increase, check soil before watering.
3. Repot any houseplants that have become root bound into a larger container.
4. Ensure houseplants are not getting scorched by summer sunshine, either move them further from the window or choose houseplants that will thrive in a sunny location.
5. Some houseplants are particularly prone to collecting dust on their leaves. So be sure to give these a regular rinse or dusting. Take large leafed houseplants outside and hose them down to clean off.
6. Put houseplants outside for the summer in a shaded, sheltered spot to enjoy the fresh air and extra light. They need a vacation too. By doing so, I got my orchids to rebloom.

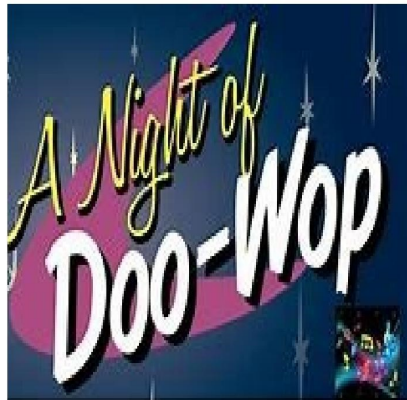

Happy Gardening!

Witness: Gucci sweats and Reeboks.
- Attorney: What is your date of birth?
Witness: July 18th.
Attorney: What year?
Witness: Every year.
- Attorney: The youngest son, the 20 year old, how old is he?
Witness: He's 20, much like your IQ.
